INGREDIENTS OF THE MONTH

Cumin

Cumin is the seed of a small umbelliferous plant. The seeds come as paired or separate carpels, and are 3-6mm (1/8-1/4 in) long. They have a striped pattern of nine ridges and oil canals, and are hairy, brownish in colour, boat-shaped, tapering at each extremity, with tiny stalks attached. They are available dried, or ground to a brownish-green powder.

Uses:

Cumin is used mainly where highly spiced foods are preferred. It features in Indian, Eastern, Middle Eastern, Mexican, Portuguese and Spanish cookery. It is an ingredient of most curry powders and many savoury spice mixtures, and is used in stews, grills - especially lamb - and chicken dishes. Cumin is a critical ingredient of chili powder, and is found in achiote blends, adobos, garam masala, curry powder, and baharat. Cumin is used as a flavoring agent in cheeses, pickles, sausages, soups, stews, stuffing, rice and bean dishes, and liqueurs. It gives bite to plain rice, and to beans and cakes. Small amounts can be usefully used in aubergine and kidney bean dishes. Oil of cumin is used in fragrances. Cumin is frequently used in Mexican dishes such as chili con carne, enchiladas with chili sauce and hot tamales. In the Middle East, it is a familiar spice for fish dishes, grills and stews and flavours couscous - semolina steamed over meat and vegetables, the national dish of Morocco.

Medical Merits

As a medicinal plant, cumin has been utilized as a stimulant, antispasmodic, carminative and sedative. Cumin oil has been reported to have antibacterial activity. It is used as a corrective for the flatulency of languid digestion and as a remedy for colic and dyspeptic headache. It was recommended as a cure for stitches and pains in the side caused by the sluggish congestion of indolent parts. Its principal employment is in veterinary medicine. Bay-salt and Cumin-seeds mixed, is a universal

Color/Flavor/Aroma

It has a spicy-sweet aroma with pungent, powerful, sharp and slightly bitter flavour

FAMOUS UNDERGROUND CAVES IN THE WORLD

CARLSBAD CAVERNS

Carlsbad Caverns is a National Park located near Carlsbad, New Mexico. Carlsbad Caverns includes the Big Room, a natural limestone cave chamber which measures 1,219 by 190 meters (4,000 by 625 feet), and 107 meters (350 feet) high at the highest point. It is the seventh largest cave chamber in the world. The caverns are decorated with stalactites, stalagmites and an incredible variety of other formations that can be seen by several easily accessible trails.

EISRIESENWELT CAVE

The Eisriesenwelt (German for "World of the Ice Giants") is the largest ice cave in the world, extending more than 42km (26 miles). The cave is inside the Hochkogel mountain in the Tennengebirge section of the Alps in Austria. Eisriesenwelt was formed by a river, which eroded passageways into the mountain. The ice formations in the cave were formed by thawing snow which drained into the cave and froze during winter.

SKOCJAN CAVES

The Skocjan cave system includes the highest cave hall in Europe, a massive underground gorge, waterfalls and a bridge over the gorge that looks like something out of The Lord of the Rings. The caves have beautiful stalactite and stalagmite structures. The Škocjan Caves are the creation of the sinking Reka River. The river remains on the surface for the first part but suddenly disappears underground, where it continues its way through the caves. The water appears on the surface again after flowing underground for 34 km (21 miles) not far from the Adriatic coast.

QUOTES FOR THE MONTH

- ❖ To Love and be loved is the greatest happiness of existence.
- ❖ Lovely friendship is like standing on the wet cement. Longer you stay, Harder to leave. And if you try to go, you can't go without leaving your foot print.
- ❖ Most of the things we desire are expensive, But the truth is: The things that satisfy us are free. Love, Laughter, and Good relations.
- ❖ World is like a camera. So you should always smile at every moment. Who knows, someone may capture your image in his/her heart? Keep smiling!
- ❖ Ships that go out into the open waters face risk from a storm. But if they sit in the harbour, they would rust anyway and that is not, what they were built for.
- ❖ You cannot plough a field by turning it over in your mind.
- ❖ Life is like a grind-stone, whether it grinds you down, or polishes you up, depends on what you are made of.
- ❖ Opportunity: Success always comes, when preparation meets opportunity.
- ❖ Agoal is not always meant to reach. It often serves simply as something to aim at.
- ❖ The people, who accept the best criticism, are the people who are genuinely interested in self - improvement.
- ❖ In all things, success depends upon proper education, previous preparation, and careful execution in life.

Tips...

A plastic freezer bag keeps the cold air from making your ice cream rock hard. If you like straight spoons and soft ice cream, this trick is worth the extra step! Try to push out as much air out of the bag as you can before putting it in the freezer.

TIPS

While cooking meat, put a whole carrot with the meat. The carrot will absorb the excess fat in the meat. Remove the carrot when cooked and cut up with other vegetables for soup or simply discard.

TIPS

Don't buy regular big onions, use shallots or leeks

For most everyday cooking, milder onions will enhance your dish and give it more nuance. Big, strong onions certainly have their place in cooking (soups, roasts, etc.), but most kitchen experiments will be improved by more subtle onion flavor.

ANDROID DEVICE MANAGER

1. Track your lost Android device with Google's Android Device Manager

Requirements:

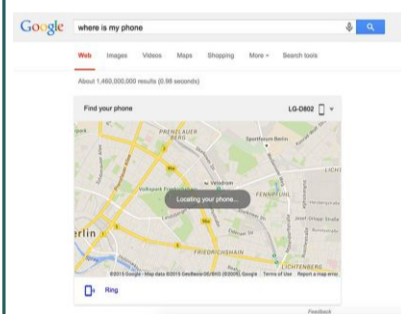

- ★ Your device is connected with your Google account.
- ★ Your device has access to the internet.
- ★ Allowed Android Device Manager (ADM) to locate your device (turned on by default).

This can be changed in the Google Settings app.

- ★ Allowed ADM to lock your device and erase its data (turned off by default).

Android Device Manager is a Google's official and easy-to-use tool to track your Android phone or tablet. The best thing about it is that you don't need to install an app to be able to track your devices. The only requirement is that your device is connected to your Google account, turned on and connected to the internet. All you need to do is visit the Android Device Manager while being logged into your Google Account. Once the site is loaded it will automatically try to track down your phone. If you have several Android devices registered, make sure the right one is chosen in the dropdown menu.

In a recent update, Google implemented some of ADM's features into their search results page. This means that you're able to quickly locate any registered Android device right from the search results. By using the search phrase "where is my phone", Google displays a little map above the search results in which it will try to find your phone. Once found, you can let it ring by clicking on "Ring" at the bottom left.

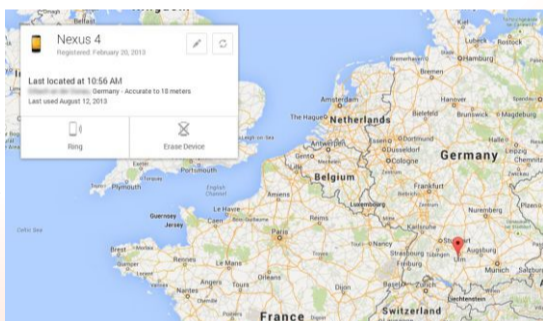

Although this makes it more convenient to find your phone quickly, it won't offer you all the options you get with the full version of Android Device Manager.

Using ADM, you are able to track your registered Android devices, let your phone ring and wipe your phone's data (which has to be enabled manually). Besides that, ADM doesn't offer more options to remote control your phone. I hope that Google keeps improving it and introduces more helpful features, such as taking pictures in case it got stolen and you want to take a snapshot of the person who took it.

In case there's no laptop around when you lose your device, you can also use someone else's Android phone to track it. Instead of using the mobile browser, you can also use the Android Device Manager app. If you have the other phone doesn't have it, simply download it here. You can sign in using the guest mode and your Google account credentials. Now you should be able to track your lost device, let it ring or wipe its data.

Are you not able to locate your phone this way? This can happen for several reasons. The one you should hope for, is that your device is simply not connected to the internet or turned off. In that case, simply keep trying to track it until it (hopefully) connects to Google's services again.

In case it got stolen, it's possible that the thief has disconnected your device from your Google Account. If that happens, neither Android Device Manager nor any other tracking tool will be able to locate the device, since it's necessary to be logged into your Google Account. This doesn't apply to previously installed tracking apps but in this scenario there are none on the phone. However, there's one last resort but more on that later.

World's Biggest Hotel to Open in Mecca in 2017

It'll have 10,000 bedrooms and 70 restaurants

The world's biggest hotel is set to open in Mecca in 2017, offering an unprecedented level of luxury to travelers and royalty alike in Saudi Arabia.

The Abraj Kudai will cost about $3.6 billion, featuring 10,000 bedrooms, 70 restaurants and four helipads, the Guardian reported on Friday. At 45 stories tall, the desert fortress-style hotel boasts 12 towers atop a 10-story podium, which contains a bus station, food courts, a shopping mall and an extravagant ballroom. But five floors will be off limits to the most guests — they're reserved exclusively for the Saudi royal family.

The Abraj Kudai was funded by the Saudi Ministry of Finance and designed by the Dar al-Handasah group.

TIPS

Refrigerators dull the taste of most produce, so if you bought something that doesn't need to go in there leave it out. Most fruits including apples, oranges, pears and bananas don't belong in the refrigerator unless you're not planning on eating them soon. Don't refrigerate tomatoes, avocados or peppers either. Very hot climates are an exception, however.

Instead of stirring your pasta several times in between the cook time in your microwave, leave a small circle empty in the middle of your plate so that the pasta will cook more evenly.

Tongue Twisters

You've no need to light a night-light
On a light night like tonight,
For a night-light's light's a slight light,
And tonight's a night that's light.
When a night's light, like tonight's light,
It is really not quite right
To light night-lights with their slight lights
On a light night like tonight.
