MOST BEAUTIFUL BAYS IN THE WORLD

VICTORIA HARBOUR

Victoria Harbour is a major tourist attraction in Hong Kong and one of the deepest container ports in the world. The bay offers stunning views of the skyscrapers of Hong Kong island on one side, and the Tsim Sha Tsui shoreline on the other. Victoria Harbour is also one of the busiest harbors in the world with hundreds of ferries, junks and speed boats darting up and down the shore. One of the best ways to see the harbor is a trip on the Star Ferry.

Guanabara Bay is a beautiful bay located in southeastern Brazil. The bay is surrounded by tropical forests, beaches, strangely-shaped rocks, the high mountains of Serra do Mar and the neighborhoods of Rio de Janeiro. The bay was discovered in January 1, 1502 by Portuguese explorer Gaspar de Lemos, who named it Rio de Janeiro (January River) thinking it was a large river. The name Guanabara comes from the Tupi-Guarani language.

GUANABARA BAY

PORT JACKSON

Port Jackson is the natural harbor of Sydney, one of the world's most livable and beautiful cities. With its hundreds of bays, coves, beaches and waterways, the harbor contributes to Sydney's scenic beauty in a major way. The harbor also contains two of Sydney's most famous landmarks: the Sydney Opera House and Sydney Harbour Bridge.

When some one has had any dish which was very very spicy, instead of water, drink milk to counter it.

PANGU SEVEN STAR HOTEL, BEIJING, CHINA

Pangu it's also called Morgan Plaza. The hotel actually has multiple buildings. It has a great view of the Olympic District in the Chinese capital. Also nearby is the National Library of China, the largest one in the country and touted as the fourth largest in the world. The hotel is located in the complex's first block. It contains two pavilions, a Japanese restaurant, a temple and an extended corridor.

The plaza is in the form of a dragon, which is considered the most powerful animal in the Chinese zodiac. It is located on China's dragon vein that connects the seat of government with the historical central axis that stretches all the way up to the Forbidden City.

Guests have loved the hotel's location and first class amenities and meals. Its breakfast buffet is reputed to be one of the best. The bed sheets and fabrics were always new and fresh.

The only drawback is the below average capacity of the employees to speak in English. But generally, so long as big words are avoided and sign language is used to accompany the actual words, one can get around the problem.

Avoid cross-contamination by using separate cutting boards for meat and poultry, and vegetables. Consider a color-coding system, only using a red plastic cutting board for raw meats and a green one for vegetables. If you prefer wood cutting boards, color code with a small piece of electric tape, which will hold up under water.

It is so easy to stick and fall apart on a grill when you are grilling or baking fish. Using sliced lemons to grill fish is the way to go and can help you out. Not only does the fish soak up the citrus flavor of the lemons, but it keeps your fish in one piece and makes clean up really easy.

Learn about.....

100% Stainless steel fermented for a crisp, light style with plenty of acidity and fresh fruit. White peach, pineapple, fresh cut hay, lychee, mango, and candied lemon. Unlike Sauvignon Blanc from regions around the world, our Santa Barbara fruit boasts a golden, ripe character that compliments the fresh fruit and minerality in this naturally vibrant varietal. The result is a balanced, focused wine that showcases the best of Sauvignon Blanc, with an unusually complex profile.

Get a good quantity of olive oil hot. Before you add the egg, heat the spatula (if it's metal) in the oil first. That way the egg won't stick to it. Add the egg and fry it quickly, until it gets "puntillitas," or slightly browned edges.

Never put garlic or cardamom, which are not peeled in hot oil. They pop up and can cause serious burns. If you need to use them whole, slightly open up the skin from one side.

TIPS!

When you're browning meat, you should blot the surface dry with a paper towel so the meat doesn't release moisture when it hits the hot oil. Too much moisture makes the meat steam instead of sear, and you will lose that rich brown crust.
