TOP TOURIST ATTRACTIONS IN CALIFORNIA

A workout for your head, hands, and imagination So much of the magic of the modern era happens invisibly and at nano scale, but The Tech Museum of Innovation - or simply "The Tech"- does a great job of creating a fun laboratory and learning experience for curious people of all ages. Dive into interactive exhibits showing the power of technologies ranging from robots to gene-splicing to alternative energy. Let virtual butterflies alight on your arm, and let the kids play with the ultimate video games - you'll probably want to play too. Another highlight is the Silicon Valley Innovation Gallery, showcasing the machines that revolutionize human thought, creativity, and communication. Man does not live by bits and bytes alone - so relax in the café, the peruse tech-and-science-y items in the gift shop (especially great for holidays and birthdays).

Om swooshing and swooping rides to interactive shows and million-gallon aquariums, this is one theme park that truly makes a big, big splash. See - and learn about—the amazing undersea worlds of animals from around the globe, including walruses, sea lions, polar bears, and penguins. See (and touch) harmless rays and sharks, and be entertained by Shamu and other killer whales, as well as DOLPHINS, in daily shows and presentations. Climb aboard a host of rides, too, including Manta, a high-tech coaster that has you twisting, diving and turning like a ray.

Tmontes Folly

Chief Winemaker and Founder Aurelio Montes of Chile's iconic Montes Winery is renowned for his adventurous nature. He created the iconic Montes Folly from Syrah grown on the foothills of the Andes mountains at a time when his peers thought it was sheer foolishness to do so. Hence, the name Folly. Montes Folly is an adventurous wine of exceptional quality; like the untamed sound of a sax in a jazz concert - wild and stunning. Its grapes are grown on the steepest, highest slopes of Montes Finca de Apalta estate, in the Apalta Valley, where the incline is greater than 45 degrees. At less than 4 tonnes per hectare, yields are extremely low; grapes and clusters are much smaller and thus more concentrated than those from the vineyard's lower slopes. They deliver more color, tannins, and flavors, making Montes Folly elegant, complex and powerful. Harvest time on the steep vineyards requires a degree of gymnastics from its agile pickers. Grapes are hand-selected and sorted on a special selection tables: any grape not up to the quality required is discarded. Once in the tank, a bleeding of 20% is made to concentrate flavor, tannins and color. True to terroir, fermentation is triggered and completed by the grapes' natural wild yeasts. The wine is aged for 18 months in 100% new French oak barrels. There is no fining and only one very light filtration before bottling. Production is limited to just 9,000 bottles. Their hopes and dreams go out with each and every bottle of Montes Folly.

TIPS!

While cooking: Heat cooking oil slowly. Heating oil too fast can have the same effect as heating it for too long - the oil could catch fire. Always remain in the kitchen while you are deep frying food. ....jesus kannan
