INGREDIENTS OF THE MONTH

Beetroot

The beetroot, also known as the table beet, garden beet, red beet or informally simply as beet, is one of the many cultivated varieties of beets (Beta vulgaris) and arguably the most commonly encountered variety in North America, Central America and Britain.

Uses:

The usually deep-red roots of beetroot are eaten boiled either as a cooked vegetable, or cold as a salad after cooking and adding oil and vinegar, or raw and shredded, either alone or combined with any salad vegetable. A large proportion of the commercial production is processed into boiled and sterilised beets or into pickles. In Eastern Europe, beet soup, such as borscht, is a popular dish. Yellow-colored beetroots are grown on a very small scale for home consumption. The green, leafy portion of the beet is also edible. It is most commonly served boiled or steamed, in which case it has a taste and texture similar to spinach.

Medical Merits

The green, leafy portion of the beet is also edible. It is most commonly served boiled or steamed, in which case it has a taste and texture similar to spinach. Beetroot is a rich source of potent antioxidants and nutrients, including magnesium, sodium, potassium and vitamin C, and betaine, which is important for cardiovascular health. It functions by acting with other nutrients to reduce the concentration of homocysteine, a homologue of the naturally occurring amino acid cysteine, which can be

FAMOUS PLACES IN SWITZERLAND

Rhine Falls

Rhine falls, near Schaffhausen, is Europe's largest waterfall. This amazing sight can be reached via a boat tour, which will also show visitors to Switzerland the lovely basin, riverside castles, and spectacular boulder perched in the middle of the river at the top of the falls. There are viewing platforms that reach out over the falls and allow guests to feel like they're hovering directly above. A children's playground, historical museum region and adventure trail make the visitor's center a wonderful way to cap off the trip.

Mount Pilatus in the Lake Lucerne region is full of legends. The name of the mountain comes from a rumor that the famous biblical Roman governor Pontius Pilate may have been buried there. Medieval Europeans believed that the mountain formed as a dragon rock falling from the sky. The 2,100 meter (7000 foot) peak offers views of the Swiss and French Alps, as well as Lake Lucerne below. The winter boasts a high-altitude Christmas market, and the summer offers hiking opportunities galore. This region can be reached with the steepest railway in the world, boasting grades over 48%.

Mount Pilatus

Matterhorn

The famous Matterhorn is an iconic emblem of the Swiss Alps. The mountain derives its name from the German words Matte, meaning meadow, and Horn, which means peak. With its 4,478 meters (14,692 ft) high summit, lying on the border between Switzerland and Italy, it is one of the highest peaks in the Alps. It is also one of the deadliest peaks in the Alps. From the first time it was climbed in 1865 to 1995, 500 alpinists have died on it. The Matterhorn's faces are steep, and only small patches of snow and ice cling to them while regular avalanches send the snow down to accumulate on the glaciers at the base of each face.

QUOTES FOR THE MONTH

- The three foundations of learning: Seeing much, suffering much & studying much.
- A woman is like your shadow; follow her, she flies; fly from her, she follows.
- I talk to myself because I like dealing with a better class of people.
- To be at EVEREST, Don't be EVER - AT - REST.
- The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched. They must be felt with the heart.
- If you talk to a man in a language he understands, that goes to his head. If you talk to him in his language, that goes to his heart.
- One machine can do the work of fifty ordinary men. No machine can do the work of one extraordinary man.
- The will to win, the desire to succeed, the urge to reach your full potential... these are the keys that will unlock the door to personal excellence.
- If you lips would keep from slips, Five things observe with care; of whom you speak, to whom you speak, to whom you speak, and how, when, and where.
- Nothing is as sacred as knowledge.
- We all have dream. But in order to make dreams come into reality, it takes an awful lot of determination, dedication, self-discipline, and effort.
- The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.
- I value the friend who for me, finds time on his calendar, But I cherish the friend who for me, does not consult his calendar.
